

Mercer County Library System Earns Highest Rating Among Nation's Public Libraries For The Sixth Straight Year

(posted 11/26/13)

Library Journal, a monthly publication for library professionals, recently released its 2013 ratings for the nation's public libraries and ranked the Mercer County Library System among the nation's best libraries for the sixth straight year.

The Mercer County Library System, made up of nine conveniently-located branches, is committed to providing the materials and services that satisfy the educational, informational, recreational, and cultural needs of its diverse community and strives to encourage a lifelong interest in reading.

For information about the programs and services offered by the MCLS, please visit your local branch or www.mcl.org.